Lincoln Holnes, PCC

As the founder and CEO of Hanh Consulting Inc., Lincoln is a certified solution-focused coach who specialises in leadership development and mind-set transformation, and a collaborative culture. Lincoln coaches individuals and teams on a variety of issues in a wide spectrum of industries.

He believes that coaching changes lives and creates collaboration as a way of life. He enjoys volunteering his time coaching and mentoring youths in schools on leadership and working with community service outreach programs helping marginalised inner city children. He also works with NGOs in support of professional immigrants' integration and meaningful employment through educational services. He received his coaching credentials from the University of Toronto and a member of ICF and a PCC candidate.
